Noteworthy cases, judgments delivered

Grand Chamber

Communauté genevoise d'action syndicale (CGAS) v. Switzerland

27.11.2023

The case concerned measures in force from 17 March to 30 May 2020, which were adopted by the Swiss Government to counter the coronavirus 2019 disease ("COVID -19").

The application was declared inadmissible:
- the Court considered that the complaint concerning trade-union freedom fell outside the scope of the case as submitted to the Grand Chamber and that, in any event, it was inadmissible for failure to comply with the six-month deadline (Article 35 of the Convention as in force at the relevant time);

- the Court considered that the complaint concerning freedom of peaceful assembly was inadmissible for failure to exhaust the domestic remedies.

Beeler v. Switzerland

11.10.2022

The case concerned the termination of the applicant's widower's pension after his younger child reached the age of majority. The Federal Law on old-age and survivors' insurance provided that entitlement to a widower's pension ended when the youngest child reached the age of 18, whereas this was not the case for a widow.

Violation of Article 14 (prohibition of discrimination) read in conjunction with Article 8 (right to respect for private and family life)

Tarakhel v. Switzerland

04.11.2014

Refusal of the Swiss authorities to examine the asylum application of an Afghan couple and their six children and decision to send them back to Italy.

Violation of Article 3 (prohibition of inhuman or degrading treatment) if the Swiss authorities were to send the applicants back to Italy under the Dublin

Regulation¹ without having first obtained individual guarantees from the Italian authorities that the applicants would be taken charge of in a manner adapted to the age of the children and that the family would be kept together.

Gross v. Switzerland

30.09.2014

The case concerned the complaint of an elderly woman – who had wished to end her life but had not been suffering from a clinical illness – that she had been unable to obtain the Swiss authorities' permission to be provided with a lethal dose of a drug in order to commit suicide.

In its Chamber judgment in the case on 14 May 2013, the Court held that there had been a violation of Article 8 (right to respect for private and family life) of the Convention. It found in particular that Swiss law was not clear enough as to when assisted suicide was permitted. The case was subsequently referred to the Grand Chamber at the request of the Swiss Government.

In January 2014 the Swiss Government informed the Court that it had learned that the applicant had died in November 2011.

In its Grand Chamber judgment of 30 September 2014, the Court came to the conclusion that the applicant had intended to mislead the Court on a matter concerning the very core of her complaint. In particular, she had taken special precautions to prevent information about her death from being disclosed to her counsel, and thus to the Court, in order to prevent the latter from discontinuing the proceedings in her case. The Court therefore found that her conduct had constituted an abuse of the right of individual application (Article 35 §§ 3 (a) and 4 of the Convention). As a result of the Grand Chamber judgment, the findings of the Chamber judgment of 14 May 2013, which had not become final, are no longer legally valid.

Cases regarding Article 6

Nait-Liman v. Switzerland

15.03.2018

The case concerned the refusal by the Swiss courts to examine Mr Nait-Liman's civil claim for compensation for the non-pecuniary damage arising from acts of torture allegedly inflicted on him in Tunisia.

No violation of Article 6 § 1 \(right of access to a court\)

Al-Dulimi and Montana Management Inc. v. Switzerland

21.06.2016

The case concerned the freezing of the assets in Switzerland of Mr Al-Dulimi and the company Montana Management Inc. pursuant to UN Security Council Resolution 1483 (2003), which provided for sanctions against the former Iraqi regime.

Violation of Article 6 § 1 \(right to a fair trial\)

Private and family life

Nada v. Switzerland

12.09.2012

Restrictions on the applicant's cross-border movement and inclusion of his name to a list annexed to a federal Ordinance, in the context of the implementation by Switzerland of United Nations Security Council counter-terrorism resolutions.

Violation of Article 8 taken together with Article 13 \(right to an effective remedy\)

Neulinger and Shuruk v. Switzerland

06.07.2010

In this case, the applicant complained about the Swiss authorities' decision that the return of her child to Israel could be envisaged and was in the child's interests.

Violation of Article 8 if the return order were enforced

Freedom of expression

Bédat v. Switzerland

29.03.2016

The case concerned the fining of a journalist for having published documents covered by investigative secrecy in a criminal case.

No violation of Article 10

Perincek v. Switzerland

15.10.2015

The case concerned the criminal conviction of a Turkish politician for publicly expressing the view, in Switzerland, that the mass deportations and massacres suffered by the Armenians in the Ottoman Empire in 1915 and the following years had not amounted to genocide.

Violation of Article 10

Mouvement Raëlien Suisse v. Switzerland

13.07.2012

The case concerned the authorities' refusal to allow the association Mouvement raëlien suisse (Swiss Raelian Movement) to put up posters featuring extraterrestrials and a flying saucer on the ground that it engaged in activities that were considered immoral.

No violation of Article 10

Verein gegen Tierfabriken \(no. 2\) v. Switzerland

30.06.2009

The case concerned the Swiss authorities' continued prohibition on broadcasting a television commercial despite the finding by the European Court of Human Rights of a violation of freedom of expression (judgment of 28 June 2001).

Violation of Article 10

Stoll v. Switzerland

10.12.2007

The case concerned the applicant's conviction for publishing a "strategy paper" drawn up by an ambassador on negotiations between parties including the World Jewish Congress and Swiss banks, concerning compensation due to Holocaust victims.

N.A. v. Switzerland \(no. 50364/14\) A.I. v. Switzerland \(no. 23378/15\)

30.05.2017

The cases concerned the decisions of the Swiss authorities to deport the applicants to Sudan after rejecting their applications for asylum.

In N.A. v. Switzerland the Court held in particular that the applicant's political activities in exile, which were limited to merely participating in the activities of the opposition organisations in exile, were not reasonably liable to attract the attention of the intelligence services and found accordingly that the applicant did not run a risk of ill-treatment or torture in the event of his return to Sudan.

No violation of Article 2 or Article 3 \(prohibition of inhuman or degrading treatment\)

In A.I. v. Switzerland the Court held in particular that, on account of his political activities in exile, it was possible that the applicant had attracted the attention of the Sudanese intelligence services. It found that there were therefore reasonable grounds for believing that the applicant ran the risk of being detained, interrogated and tortured on his arrival at Khartoum Airport.

Violation of Article 2 and of Article 3 \(prohibition of inhuman or degrading treatment\)

Scavuzzo-Hager and Others v. Switzerland

07.02.2006

The case concerned the death of a young drug addict who, when arrested by two cantonal police officers, was in a state of extreme intoxication and lost consciousness. He died two days later in Bellinzona Hospital.

Violation of Article 2 \(first finding against Switzerland under this Article\)

Inhuman or degrading treatment

M.A.M. v. Switzerland (no. 29836/20)

26.04.2022

The case concerned the applicant's possible expulsion to Pakistan. M.A.M. is a Pakistani national who had converted from Islam to Christianity while in Switzerland, where he had arrived in 2015 and where his asylum request had been rejected.

There would be a violation of Article 2 \(right to life\) and Article 3 if the decision to expel the applicant to Pakistan were to be executed

Bardali v. Switzerland (no. 31623/17)

24.11.2020

The case concerned the applicant's conditions of detention in Champ-Dollon Prison in the Canton of Geneva.

No violation of Article 3 \(prohibition of inhuman or degrading treatment\)

B and C v. Switzerland (nos. 43987/16 and 889/19)

17.11.2020

The case concerned a homosexual couple, one of whom risked being returned to the Gambia following the rejection of his partner's application for family reunification. He alleged he was at risk of ill-treatment if returned.

Violation of Article 3 if the first applicant were deported to the Gambia on the basis of the domestic decisions in his case.

A.A. v. Switzerland (no. 32218/17)

05.11.2019

The case concerned the removal from Switzerland to Afghanistan of an Afghan national of Hazara ethnicity who was a Muslim convert to Christianity.

Violation of Article 3 in the event of the applicant's return to Afghanistan

M.O. v. Switzerland (no. 41282/16)

20.06.2017

The case concerned the complaint brought by an Eritrean asylum seeker that he would be at risk of ill-treatment if deported from Switzerland to his country of origin. The applicant essentially claimed before the Swiss authorities that he was a deserter from military service and, following a period of imprisonment, had escaped and left Eritrea illegally. The authorities found that his asylum claim was not credible and ordered his removal.

The Court decided that there would be no violation of Article 3 of the European Convention if the expulsion order against the applicant, Mr M.O, were implemented.

No violation of Article 5 § 1 \(right to liberty and security\)

I.S. v. Switzerland

06.10.2020

In this case, I.S. complained about the extension of his preventive detention (between April and December 2015) despite his acquittal at first instance.

Violation of Article 5

I.L. v. Switzerland (no. 72939/16)

03.12.2019

I.L. submitted that a preventive measure had been imposed on him (between 13 June and 23 September 2016) in conditions that were not provided for by Swiss law. The preventive measure had been ordered on the basis of provisions from the Code of Criminal Procedure governing pre-trial detention, applied by analogy, pending a court ruling on a request for an extension of the institutional therapeutic measure that had been imposed on I.L. five years previously. The maximum duration of that initial measure had just expired.

Violation of Article 5 § 1

Porchet v. Switzerland

07.11.2019

The case concerned the applicant's pre-trial detention in a 48-hour police custody facility and his compensation claim.

10.05.2016

The case concerned the length and conduct of the judicial proceedings brought by a Swiss national to end his preventive detention, which had been imposed by a judge for psychiatric reasons.

Violation of Article 5 § 4 \(right to a speedy decision on the lawfulness of detention\)

No violation of Article 5 § 4 with regard to the requirement to hold a hearing

Ruiz Rivera v. Switzerland

18.02.2014

The case concerned the refusal by the Swiss authorities, relying on two medical expert reports diagnosing paranoid and schizoid disorders, to release a person placed in psychiatric detention for having killed and decapitated his wife.

Violation of Article 5 § 4 (right to have lawfulness of detention decided speedily) on account of the refusal by the courts to order a further psychiatric report and hold an adversarial hearing before the Zürich Administrative Court

Adamov v. Switzerland

21.06.2011

The case concerned the detention in Switzerland of a former Russian energy minister, who was arrested while in Bern visiting his daughter and on business, and was eventually extradited to Russia.

No violation of Article 5 § 1

Inadmissible application

Maddalozzo v. Switzerland

16.01.2020

The case concerned an order for continued psychiatric detention after a prior five-year prison sentence. The order had been issued on 8 December 2016 by the post-sentencing court of the Canton of Geneva.

Application declared inadmissible as manifestly ill-founded.

Cases concerning Article 6

Right to a fair hearing

Sperisen v. Switzerland

13.06.2023

The case concerned criminal proceedings brought against the applicant, who contested the impartiality of the presiding judge of the bench of the Criminal Appeals and Retrial Division ("the CPAR") of the Court of Justice of the Canton of Geneva, which had determined, on appeal, the criminal charge against him.

Violation of Article 6 § 1

Freedom of thought, conscience and religion

Osmanoğlu and Kocabaş v. Switzerland

10.01.2017

The case concerned the refusal of Muslim parents to send their daughters, who had not reached the age of puberty, to compulsory mixed swimming lessons as part of their schooling and the authorities' refusal to grant them an exemption.

No violation of Article 9

Freedom of expression

Schweizerische Radio- und Fernsehgesellschaft and publisuisse SA v. Switzerland

22.12.2020

The two applicant companies in this case complained about the obligation imposed on them to run a commercial which, in their view, was damaging to their reputation.

No violation of Article 10

Jecker v. Switzerland

06.10.2020

The case concerned a journalist who complained that she had been compelled to give evidence during a criminal investigation into drug trafficking and that the authorities had required her to disclose her sources following the publication of a newspaper article about a soft-drug dealer who had provided her with information.

Violation of Article 10

GRA Stiftung gegen Rassismus und Antisemitismus v. Switzerland

09.01.2018

The case concerned a complaint by a non-governmental organisation that its right to freedom of expression had been infringed because the domestic courts had found that it had defamed a politician by classifying his remarks at a speech during a campaign ahead of a 2009 referendum on banning minarets in Switzerland as "verbal racism".

Violation of Article 10

Y. v. Switzerland (no. 22998/13)

06.06.2017

The case concerned the fining of a journalist for reporting information covered by the secrecy of a judicial investigation.

No violation of Article 10

Haldimann and Others v. Switzerland

24.02.2015

The case concerned the conviction of four journalists for having recorded and broadcast an interview of a private insurance broker using a hidden camera, as part of a television documentary intended to denounce the misleading advice provided by insurance brokers.

In this case, the Court was for the first time called on to examine an application concerning the use of hidden cameras by journalists to provide public information on a subject of general interest, whereby the person filmed was targeted not in any personal capacity but as a representative of a particular professional category.

Violation of Article 10

Schweizerische Radio- und Fernsehgesellschaft SRG v. Switzerland

21.06.2012

The case concerned the refusal to allow a television station to carry out a televised interview inside a prison with a prisoner serving a sentence for murder. The applicant company had intended to broadcast the interview in one of the longest-running programmes on Swiss television.

Violation of Article 10

Gsell v. Switzerland

08.10.2009

Violation of Article 10

Foglia v. Switzerland

13.12.2007

The case concerned a judicial decision against a lawyer on account of statements he had made to the press in connection with pending criminal proceedings (concerning the alleged embezzlement of significant amounts by the former president of Lugano Football Club, who had been found dead in Lake Lugano).

Violation of Article 10

Monnat v. Switzerland

21.09.2006

The case concerned the sanctions imposed on a journalist and the restrictions on the sale of a television report produced by him, following a judgment in which the Swiss Federal Court upheld viewers' complaints about the broadcasting of the report, which concerned Switzerland's role during the Second World War.

Violation of Article 10

Dammann v. Switzerland

25.04.2006

The case concerned a journalist's conviction for "incitement to disclose an official secret" after attempting to obtain information from the public prosecutor's office by telephone concerning a spectacular robbery.

Violation of Article 10

Inadmissible application

Schweizerische Radio- und Fernsehgesellschaft and Others v. Switzerland

5.12.2019

The case concerned the outcome of a complaint concerning a television programme on Botox (botulinum toxin): the domestic authorities had found that the programme had not broached the issue of the animal experiments required for manufacturing the product, and had thus failed to honour its obligation as a public service provider to present facts in a reliable manner.

Application declared inadmissible as manifestly ill-founded.

Freedom of assembly and association

Association Rhino and Others v. Switzerland

11.10.2011

The case concerned the dissolution of a squatters' association whose aims had been found to be unlawful.

It is the first violation of the freedom of association by Switzerland.

Violation of Article 11

Discrimination

Semenya v. Switzerland

11.07.2023

The case concerned an international-level athlete, specialising in middle-distance races, who complained about certain regulations of the International Association of Athletics Federations (IAAF – now called World Athletics) requiring her to take hormone treatment to decrease her natural testosterone level in order to be able to take part in international competitions in the female category. Having refused to undergo the treatment, she was no longer able to take part in international competitions. Her legal actions challenging the regulations in question before the Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS) and the Federal Court were rejected.

Ryser v. Switzerland

12.01.2021

The case concerned Mr Ryser's liability to the military service exemption tax even though he had been declared unfit for service. The applicant complained of discrimination on the grounds of his state of health.

Violation of Article 14 \(prohibition of discrimination\) read in conjunction with Article 8 \(right to respect for private and family life\)

Belli and Arquier-Martinez v. Switzerland

11.12.2018

The case concerned the decision taken in respect of Ms Belli, who is deaf and incapable of discernment owing to a severe disability affecting her since birth, discontinuing her entitlement to a special invalidity benefit and a disability allowance on the grounds that she was no longer resident in Switzerland. The domestic legislation required persons in receipt of non-contributory benefits, like Ms Belli, to be habitually resident in Switzerland, whereas persons in receipt of an ordinary invalidity-insurance benefit who had contributed to the scheme could take up residence abroad.

No violation of Article 14 \(prohibition of discrimination\) taken together with Article 8 \(right to respect for private and family life\)

di Trizio v. Switzerland

02.02.2016

The case concerned the refusal of the Swiss Disability Insurance Office to continue paying a 50% disability allowance to the applicant, Ms di Trizio, after the birth of her twins.

Inadmissible application

Glaisen v. Switzerland

18.07.2019

The applicant, who is paraplegic, uses a wheelchair. His complaint concerned his inability to gain access to a cinema in Geneva.

Application declared inadmissible.

In the present case, the European Court was of the view that the Federal Court had given sufficient reasons to explain why the situation faced by Mr Glaisen was not serious enough to fall within the notion of discrimination. The European Court thus saw no cause to go against the findings of the Federal Court, which had held that the Convention did not oblige Switzerland to adopt, in its domestic legislation, a concept of discrimination of the kind sought by Mr Glaisen. It followed that the applicant was not entitled to rely on Article 8 of the Convention.

Right not to be tried or punished twice

Rivard v. Switzerland

04.10.2016

The case concerned the fact that Mr Rivard had been penalised twice (payment of a fine and withdrawal of licence) for the same facts (exceeding the motorway speed limit) by two different Swiss authorities.

Application declared inadmissible as manifestly ill-founded.

Rappaz v. Switzerland

Declared inadmissible 26.03.2013

The applicant, who had been imprisoned for various offences, embarked on a hunger strike in an attempt to secure his release.

In this case the Court held that the Swiss authorities had not failed in their obligation to protect the applicant's life and to provide him with conditions of detention compatible with his state of health.

Application declared inadmissible as manifestly ill-founded.

Complaints concerning the ban on the construction of minarets

Association Ligue des Musulmans de Suisse and Others v. Switzerland \(no. 66274/09\) and Ouardiri v. Switzerland \(no. 65840/09\)

28.06.2011

The applicants, a former spokesman for the Geneva Mosque in the first case and three associations and a foundation in the second, complained that the constitutional amendment in Switzerland prohibiting the building of minarets was incompatible with the Convention. The Court declared their applications inadmissible, on the ground that they could not claim to be the "victims" of a violation of the Convention.
